

Full Acceptance

For He knows our frame; He remembers that we are dust. Psalm 103:14, nkjv

You don't need to make "acceptance" happen at all. Jesus already did all that for you. The Father hates sin, but He totally accepts you and can make you new! You don't need to strive, connive, or jive at all. Listen, God totally understands you, He gets it aboutcha! He knows how weak we are, and how much we each need Him.

Man, our uber-awesome gracious God has such a great memory too and He clearly recalls every little detail of how He skillfully made every individual ..and how he fashioned people in general, from the very dust of the ground (Gen. 2:7). You were in His mind long before you were in your parent's minds. You're not a mistake and unwanted. He has an eternal purpose for your life.

I just love how it is with Him.. don't you?

God is strong, but so gentle and will never expect more from any of us than what the Holy Spirit is able to do in and through each one of us for God's glory. We simply obey Him and the blessings typically start to flow for more than one person (we want the Blesser more than His blessings!). Yup, if we simply allow the Spirit the freedom to work as we tell others about Christ.

Does that make you feel secure and at peace inside to know that the Creator of the universe knows you and all your needs? Hey, how do you spell relief? The Bible Lord—the true Vine—knows you and I very well and how fruitless our lives will be if we try to go-it solo, independent from Him. We can do nothing good at all apart from Him, not even suck in our next breath of air!

It's sad that most people don't see this and many take this for granted. Jesus wants all sinners to come to Him just as they are, but willing to repent, believe and change.. willing to allow Him to bring about all the changes inside of them.

In Christ..

We don't have to prove ourselves at all to God, we can just be ourselves 'cause that's exactly the way He likes it. He's always Himself at all times, so why would He expect you or me not to be?

We don't have to fret, be nervous or worry about disappointing the Lord, 'cause He knows we've all sinned already—Christ's blood dealt with that.

We don't have to do gobs and gobs of good works or boring religious rituals to earn God's respect or blessings, 'cause these things will never be more free than free ..like they are now! How cool is that? Way kuuuh!

We don't have to deserve God's love, grace, and mercy. It's that way simply because of the cross.

We don't even have to pray so many hours, read so many pages, witness to so many unbelievers, go to church so many times in just the right denomination, or have so many HD visions, or heal so many sickly dudes, or give so many dollars (as many so called Christian preachers would tell you), or preach so many sermonettes, or missionize and moralize so many clueless foreigners just to be accepted by the Lord of lords.

NO, No, noooo!

Jesus said "it is finished" and that basically means ..done (See John 19:30)! ALL DONE!!!

Christ always said what He meant and meant what He said. You can take Him at His Word.

We each work from salvation not for salvation. And we Christians do this to rep Him well to a crazy-lost world of helpless unregenerate friends groping for viable answers.

Hey it ain't like rocket science here, or even like sales these days. You and I don't have to produce a certain quota or we are out the door.

None of us have to aim to be successful. We simply pray, appropriate, and aim to be loyal to Christ.. to be faithful, to be fruitful, to stay in connection with the Lord as He baptizes us, as He leads, feeds and provides all the supernatural power necessary.

He knows what it's all about with each one of us. The Bible tells us that, "As a father pities his children, so the Lord pities those who fear Him. For He knows our frame; He remembers that we are dust. As for man, his days are like grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourishes."

From dust to dust, are you ready to come to Him before it's too late? Don't want to scare anyone at all, but we don't have endless amounts of time here.

Sadly not all individuals will make it in, but we might be very surprised to see who will be accepted into Heaven.

[I pray] that you . . .may be able to comprehend . . .the love of Christ which passes knowledge. — Ephesians 3:17-19

Oh, how great is God's love for us! — David Egner

Eternal acceptance and life were made possible for you by Christ's eternal love ..as was displayed at Calvary!

Christians are indeed dust ..with of course H2o (..some 80% of our bodies are water), but we are also infused with the very breath of God. That's how we can joyously be controlled by God the Spirit for our very brief fishing venture down here! So cheer up, He accepts you.

Have a prayer request or some questions about knowing God and how to properly walk in Jesus Christ? At fish4souls.org click "Contact" and let us know! Perhaps we can help.

© Copyright 2007 by Kurt von Schleicher. All rights reserved.